1. Results of Operations and Financial Position

(1) Overview of Results of Operations

Regarding the circumstances surrounding the FANUC Group during the first six-month period of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024 (from April 1 to September 30, 2023), while the impact on production activities by shortage in semiconductors and other components in the supply chain that had continued until now has subsided, the outlook remained uncertain due to several factors, such as the effects of progressing global inflation, concerns of an economic slowdown, and fluctuations in exchange rates. In addition, inventory adjustments from the second half of FY 2022 (the fiscal year ended March 31, 2023) had an impact on production. Amidst these difficult conditions, the Company has done every effort to minimize the impact on the financial results through the concerted efforts of all departments, including sales divisions, R&D divisions, factories, service divisions, and administrative departments.

During the six months from April to September 2023, FANUC posted consolidated net sales totaling ¥398,695 million, down 4.2%, consolidated ordinary income totaling ¥86,153 million, down 25.4%, and net income attributable to owners of parent totaling ¥63,937 million, down 24.1%, compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

An overview of the results for each business division is as follows:

In the FA Division, demand from the machine tool industry, the primary market for CNC systems, showed a slowdown trend in each country around the world, including Japan, except the Indian market, where demand was firm, and sales of our CNC systems also declined. Net sales in the FA Division amounted to ¥92,777 million, down 28.3% compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

In the Robot Division, the sales increased due to a backlog of orders from the previous period in both Europe and the Americas for EV-related industries and general industries. In China, the sales increased compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year despite a slight drop in demand for EV-related industries, which had previously been strong. In India, the sales increased due to a strong demand for both automobile-related industries and general industries. In Japan, the sales increased compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year, despite the continued sluggish sales for the automobile industry and demand for general industries also stalling. As a result, net sales in the Robot Division amounted to ¥192,438 million, up 19.1% compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

In the Robomachine Division, sales of ROBODRILLs (compact machining centers) decreased due to a drop in demand in the Americas and China. Sales of ROBOSHOTs (electric injection molding machines) declined due to a drop in demand from the IT-related and medical markets. Sales of ROBOCUTs (wire electrical-discharge machines) decreased due to a drop in demand in Europe and the Americas. As a result, net sales in the Robomachine Division amounted to ¥50,451 million, down 29.1% compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

In the Service Division, with an emphasis on our policy of "Service First," we are strengthening the service system and improving efficiency by actively introducing IT technology. Net sales in the Service Division amounted to ¥63,029 million, up 16.9% compared with the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

(2) Financial Position

(1) Assets, Liabilities and Net Assets

Total assets were ¥1,926,249 million, up ¥52,713 million compared with the end of the previous fiscal year.

Total liabilities were ¥237,560 million, down ¥8,421 million compared with the end of the previous fiscal year.

Total net assets were ¥1,688,689 million, up ¥61,134 million compared with the end of the previous fiscal year.

(2) Cash Flows

Cash and cash equivalents (hereinafter "Cash") for the first half of the current fiscal year amounted to ¥473,870 million, down ¥3,083 million from the end of the previous fiscal year.

(Cash flows from operating activities)

Cash provided by operating activities during the six months ended September 30, 2023 amounted to ¥75,212 million, up ¥29,104 million compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. This was mainly due to the decrease in inventories increasing compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year.

(Cash flows from investing activities)

Cash used in investing activities during the six months ended September 30, 2023 amounted to ¥33,763 million, up ¥7,670 million compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. This was mainly due to the increase in payments into time deposits.

(Cash flows from financing activities)

Cash used in financing activities during the six months ended September 30, 2023 amounted to ¥55,703 million, down ¥3,760 million compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. This was mainly due to the decrease in share buybacks.

(3) Financial Results Forecasts

Due to the expected prolonged impact on production based on delayed recovery of the Chinese market and inventory adjustments, the Company forecasts the financial results for the full year ending March 31, 2024, as follows.

For FY 2023 (April 1, 2023 through March 31, 2024)

3. Other Information

- Changes in Significant Subsidiaries during the six months ended September 30, 2023 (changes in specific subsidiaries that caused change in scope of consolidation):

 None
- (2) Adoption of Simplified and Specifically Applied Accounting Method for Quarterly Consolidated Financial Reporting: None
- (3) Changes in Accounting Principles and Accounting Estimates, and Revisions/Restatements (Change in accounting principles)

(Change in inventory valuation method)

The Company previously valued materials included in "Raw materials and supplies" using the last purchase cost method, but changed to the weighted average cost method from first quarter period of this FY.

The purpose of this change is to calculate periodic profit/loss and valuate inventory more appropriately, triggered by soaring material prices and increased inventory levels.

It is not feasible to determine the cumulative effect of the retrospective application of the weighted average cost method due to the unavailability of some payment and receipt records required for calculation using the weighted average cost method for the previous fiscal year. Therefore, the cumulative effect of the retrospective application of the weighted average cost method is reflected in the beginning balance of first quarter period, based on the difference between the carrying amount of inventories at the beginning of first quarter period under the weighted average cost method and the carrying amount at the end of the previous fiscal year.

As a result, retained earnings at the beginning of first quarter period decreased by ¥2,945 million. The impact of this change on cost of goods sold, every category of profit or loss and per share information for this second quarter period is immaterial.

(4) Note on Premise of a Going Concern:
